

10000

Handwritten notes in a cursive script, likely describing the building's features or construction details. The text is arranged in several lines and is partially obscured by the drawing's lines.

